Freight traffic managers of Missouri lines will confer some time this week to determine what action shall be taken reing the maximum freight, rate l It is contended that under this law the commodities upon which the rates are reduced cannot be handled in Missouri except at a loss, and, as these commodities, viz. grain and flour, cattle, agricultural implements, salt and lime, form a large part of the freight traffic in Missouri, It part of the freight traffic in Missouri, it is claimed that the inroads into the revenue of the lines would be rectous.

Under the maximum freight-rate law, which has been signed by the Governor and becomes effective almost at once, the rate on these commodities is reduced from 23 to 40 per cent.

Traffic officials claim that this reduction is about 29 per cent less than the reduction put in effect in Nebraska recently, and which, upon the railroads contesting, the Supreme Court of that State set aside the rate, holding that it was virtually a confiscation of property.

At the meeting of traffic managers in St. Louis this week two courses will be considered, one is to enjoin the authorities from putting the rate in effect, and the other is to ignore it.

While a diversity of opinion exists among freight traffic men as to the best manner of opposing the rate reduction all are unanimous in agreeing that it should be opposed.

YOACUM SAYS FRISCO WILL EXPEND $50,000,000.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 17.-B. P. You kum, before his departure for South Texas, said that it was true that the Frisco would expend about $50,000,000 in absorbing extensions, and constructions of new lines in Texas.

He is chairman of the Frisco Board of Directors, and, therefore, knows.

Among the new lines are the extension of the Trinity and Brazes, from Cleburne to Fort Worth and from its southern terminal to the guif, giving the Colorado terminal to the guif, giving the Colorado Southern system, recently acquired by the Frisco, an outlet for all of its lines and northern connections to the guif via Fort Worth and Denver.

Another extension is that of the Rio Grande branch of the Frisco to Weaver on the San, thus giving the Frisco the long-desired entrance into Antonio, by building a seventy-mile line.

Colonel Youkum also said the Frisco had actually acquired the Tennessee Central, giving the Frisco a southeastern outlet to the coast. He goes South to look over matters in connection with the
